

MANILA IS DEWEY'S.

No Doubt But the City Has Fallen.

Rpaniards Arranged to Surrender the City.

And For Weeks Have Waited Dewey's Word.

Washington, July 27.—Official news confirming the Madrid report to the effect that Manila has surrendered to the American forces is momentarily expected.

The authorities make no secret of the fact that a misunderstanding has existed for some time between Gen. Augusti and Admiral Dewey and that the Spanish forces will surrender as soon as the Americans express their readiness to assume the responsibility of government in the city.

Benton Harbor people are anxious about the yellow fever in Santiago and Dr. G. M. Bell and Edgar Nichols are raising money to send a cablegram to Capt. Graves tomorrow to inquire about Company I.

HOME TOMORROW.

Ed. Stevens and Will Morton Will Arrive on Boat.

Ed. J. Stevens and Will H. Morton, who were taken sick at Santiago after the first battle, will arrive home tomorrow on the afternoon boat.

A large crowd of people will meet them at the dock. Though home on a furlough it is not likely that they will have a chance to see more active service in the present war.

THE WAY TO ENJOY LIFE is to eat what tastes good, and as much as you want to, and feel good—and this can be done by using DIGESTINE.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.

It Will Be Built at Watervliet Not Benton Harbor.

Powers, Ireland & Co., the popular contractors and builders, have completed the plans for an elegant brick block which will be built in the village of Watervliet, work on which will commence August 1. W. H. Shankland of this city will be the owner.

The block will be 60x70 feet, two stories high. The lower floor will be divided into two large store rooms, while the second story will be a fine opera house capable of seating 1200 people and fitted up with up-to-date scenery and furnishings.

It is understood that Mr. Shankland has the block leased for a term of years. If Watervliet can support such an opera house what is the matter with this city.

Continued.

The examination of Miller and Freeman the two men arrested for tampering with a thrashing machine belonging to the West Michigan nurseries was heard in part at Eau Claire yesterday and will be finished tomorrow. The prosecuting attorney says that the two men will undoubtedly be bound over to the circuit court.

England's Center.

A familiar sight on the road leading from Leamington to Warwick, in England, is a great oak tree growing right in the middle of the highway. This tree is said to mark the exact center of England. No one is able to give the age of the tree, though it is known to have stood there for at least 300 or 400 years. It is tall and broad, and the trunk near the ground measures about twelve feet in girth. Straight lines drawn from Berwyck-on-Tweed to Southampton, from Carlisle to Selgen Hill, from Birkenshead to Eastborn, from Land's End to Ingoldsell's Point, from Dover to Bangor, and from points on the seacoast will all cut the spot on which the old oak is planted.

ANSWER TO SPAIN.

President McKinley Will Render It Tomorrow.

Washington, July 27.—President McKinley by tomorrow will communicate the answer of the American government to Spain's peace proposition.

If Spain will give assurance that an armistice will be followed by a treaty of peace it is probable that the president will agree to an armistice.

OTHER REPORTS.

Washington, July 27.—The reports of Capt. Chadwick of the New York, Capt. Taylor of the Indiana, Capt. Phillips of the Texas and Commander Wainwright of the Gloucester on the destruction of Cervera's fleet were made public today.

They do not materially differ from the report of Sampson, Schley and other officials. Capt. Chadwick, of Sampson's flagship, admits that his vessel was too far away to get into the fight when the Spanish fleet came out of the harbor.

Madrid, July 27.—The cabinet last night discussed the consequences likely to follow the landing of American troops in Porto Rico.

TO SAVE PORTO RICO

Spain Asks Powers to Keep Troops Out.

Cry for Peace Raised for a Purpose.

Washington, July 27.—Madrid has sent out a report that the Spanish government will protest to the powers against the landing of any more troops in Porto Rico by Americans after Spain has sued for peace.

This report is taken to mean that Spain has still hopes of saving Porto Rico from the wreck. Such a settlement as not to include the ceding of Porto Rico to the United States will not be even considered by the government and the trouble Spain has taken in applying to the powers for protection will be without avail.

MILES SENDS WORD.

Brief Dispatch Informing the Department That He is on Porto Rican Soil.

HARBOR IS ALL HE COULD WANT.

Gloucester and Her Gallant Crew Clean Out the Dons, Who Lose Four Men.

No Losses on Our Side, Although the Mousers Were Popping Away Very Lively for Awhile—Wainwright's Little Gunboat Knocks a Blockhouse to Pieces—Sixth Illinois Volunteers Among the First to Go Ashore—The Landing Place Described.

Washington, July 27.—The war department at 11:30 last night posted the following, dated St. Thomas, July 26, 1898, 9:35 p. m.: "Circumstances were such that I deemed it advisable to take the harbor of Guanica first, fifteen miles west of Ponce, which was successfully accomplished between daylight and 11 o'clock. Spaniards surprised. The Gloucester, Commander Wainwright, first entered the harbor; met with slight resistance; fired a few shots. All the transports are now in the harbor and infantry and artillery rapidly going ashore. This is a well-protected harbor. Water sufficiently deep for all transports and heavy vessels to anchor within 200 yards of shore. The Spanish flag was lowered and the American flag raised at 11 o'clock today. Captain Higginson, with his fleet has rendered able and earnest assistance. Troops in good health and best of spirits. No casualties. [Signed.] MILES."

Gloucester Does It Again.

Port Guanica, Porto Rico, July 27.—[Copyright, 1898, by the Associated Press.]—This town on the coast of Porto Rico was taken by the United States forces yesterday after a brief but lively engagement, in which the Gloucester again distinguished herself. Early yesterday morning the Gloucester, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Wainwright, steamed into the harbor in order to reconnoiter the place. The Spaniards were completely taken by surprise. Almost the first they knew of the approach of the army was in the announcement contained in the firing of a gun from the Gloucester, demanding that the Spaniards haul down their flag, which was floating from a flagstaff in front of a blockhouse standing to the east of the village. The first couple of three-pounders were fired into the hills, right and left of the bay, purposely avoiding the town, lest the projectiles hurt women or children.

Old Glory Goes to the Masthead.

The Gloucester then hove to within about 600 yards of the shore and lowered a launch having on board a Colt rapid-fire gun and thirty men, under command of Lieutenant Huse, which was sent ashore without encountering opposition. Quartermaster Beck thereupon told Yeoman Lacy to haul down the Spanish flag, which was done, and they then raised on the flagstaff the first United States flag to float over Porto Rican soil. Suddenly about thirty Spaniards opened fire with Mauser rifles on the American party. Lieutenant Huse and his men responded with great gallantry, the Colt gun doing effective work. Norman, who received Admiral Cervera's surrender, and Wood, a volunteer Lieutenant, shared the honors with Lieutenant Huse.

GLoucester RETURNS THE FIRE.

Spanish Cavalry Hastens to Take a Hand in the Fight Also.

Almost immediately after the Spaniards fired on the Americans the Gloucester opened fire on the enemy, with all her three and six pounders which could be brought to bear, shelling the town, and also dropping shells into the hills to the west of Guanica, where a number of Spanish cavalry was to be seen hastening toward the spot where the Americans had landed. Lieutenant Huse then threw up a little fort which he named Fort Wainwright. The lieutenant also mounted the Colt gun and signaled for reinforcements, which were sent from the Gloucester. The Associated Press dispatch boat Cynthia II was the only boat in the harbor except the Gloucester.

Presently a few Spanish cavalry joined those who were fighting in the street of Guanica, but the Colt was let loose, killing four of them. By that time the Gloucester had the range of the town and of the blockhouse, and all her guns were spitting fire, the doctor and the paymaster helping to serve the guns. Soon afterwards white coated galloping cavalymen were seen climbing the hills to the westward and the foot soldiers were scurrying along the fences from the town. By 9:45 with the exception of a few guerrilla shots the town was won and the enemy was driven out of its neighborhood. The Red Cross nurses on the Lampasas and a detachment of regulars were the first to land from the transports. After Lieutenant Huse had captured the place he deployed his small force into the suburbs.

But he was soon reinforced by the regulars, who were followed by company G, of the Sixth Illinois, and then by other troops in quick succession. All the boats of the men-of-war and transports were used in the work of landing the troops, each steam launch towing four or five boats loaded to the rails with soldiers. But everything progressed in an orderly manner, and according to the plans of General Miles. The latter went ashore at about noon, after stopping to board the Gloucester and thank Lieutenant Commander Wainwright for his gallant action.

General Miles said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "Guanica and Ciego are in the disaffected portion of the island. Mateo, the insurgent leader, lives at Yauco, a few miles inland. Had we landed at Cape San Juan a line of rifle pits might have stopped our advance."

Spaniards Keep a Good Watch.

Key West, Fla., July 27.—A squad of Spanish soldiers three miles west of Bahia Honda, province of Pinar del Rio, Monday afternoon fired half a dozen shots at the Associated Press dispatch boat Dandy which was passing that point, two miles out. Flash and smoke signals also marked the progress of the Dandy along the shore, which seemed to be excellently watched. The country from a point west of Bahia Honda to Havana is in a high state of cultivation.

WASHINGTON IS AGAIN SURPRISED.

Miles Doesn't Land Where It Had Been Planned He Should.

Washington, July 27.—The news of the landing of General Miles at Guanica, on the southwest shore of Porto Rico, came as a genuine surprise to the war department. It had been all carefully planned that he was to make his landing at another place as remote as possible from the place where he actually landed, so there was little wonder that the officials received the first news of the landing with incredulity, and even went to the length of supposing that the story had been put about in order to distract attention from the point which had been selected. Just why General Miles made this wide departure from the plans of the department is not known, but it is supposed that he gathered some information since he left Siboney that induced him to make the change.

The result, however, has been to perplex the department officials deeply and to considerably derange their carefully prepared programme for the remainder of the expedition. It will be now necessary to intercept the sections of the expedition already at sea heading for certain selected points on the coast of Porto Rico and to advise them of the change in the plans. General Wilson's brigade is now approaching the island and reinforcements will follow at intervals of one or two days until the whole force of 30,000 men is landed, unless events connected with the peace negotiations make it expedient to stop further movements. However, it is a matter for congratulation to the war department that General Miles has managed to set foot on Porto Rico before the first overtures for peace, and thus to place the island in the same position as Cuba and the Philippines, namely, as territory at least partially in the possession of the United States.

Guanica is a small town of 1,000 inhabitants on the southern coast of the island. On a rough calculation it is less than twenty miles air line distant from Ponce and sixty-five miles from San Juan, against which the assault is to be directed. Guanica is about six miles south of Yauco, of which city it forms the port, and with which it is connected by a good road. The town is situated on a bay of the same name, which forms one of the best ports in the whole island. The banks to the right are steep and form a good natural wharf. Three vessels can lie alongside and unload by means of gang planks. Vessels of thirty feet draft can enter the bay easily and proceed close inshore. The conspicuous advantage of this port, aside from its excellent harbor facilities for the transports is the utter absence of fortifications or mines.

DONS REPORT A VICTORY.

Say They Repulsed an Attack on Bahia Honda Saturday.

Havana, July 27.—[Copyright, 1898, by Associated Press.]—The following is the official report of the engagement between the Spanish force and the American marines on Saturday, July 23, near Bahia Honda, sixty-five miles west of Havana, on the north coast of the province of Pinar del Rio: "On July 23 Senior Manzanal, mayor of Bahia Honda, left the town about sunrise with forces of all arms, proceeding in a northerly direction toward Manzanal Creek and Gobernadora Beach, to the west of the entrance of the bay on which the town of Bahia Honda is situated. It had been reported that American ships had been seen there the day before.

"On arriving the Spanish forces opened with artillery and musketry fire, compelling the American ship in the offing to withdraw with several losses on board. Of the landing party four were killed, among them a lieutenant, as was ascertained from documents on his person. Our troops also sank the boat used in the landing, with eight men, and captured one new Remington rifle, a Borden rifle and 100 cartridges. The Spanish losses were three slightly wounded."

GRANT'S BRIGADE LEAVES CAMP.

Packs Up and Starts for Newport News En Route to Porto Rico.

Chickamauga Park, Ga., July 27.—The Third brigade of the First division, First corps, General Fred Grant commanding, received orders early yesterday morning to strike tents and pack up for immediate departure. This brigade consists of the First Kentucky, Fifth Illinois and Third Kentucky, the Third battalion of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania being attached. The First Kentucky was to have loaded its effects for Newport News, the destination of the brigade, at noon yesterday, but the task of loading the wagon train taking several hours more than was calculated the regiment did not get away from Rossville until last night.

The Fifth Illinois had orders to leave camp at 5 o'clock this morning, accompanied by the Third battalion of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania. The Third Kentucky left camp at 6 o'clock this morning.

Santiago Fever Report.

Washington, July 27.—The war department at 10:30 last night posted the following, dated Santiago, July 26: "The following is the sanitary condition for July 25: Total sick (other than fever), 287; total fever, 2,138; new cases of fever, 495; cases of fever returned to duty, 412. Private Ward Marrs, company E, Thirty-third Michigan, died of yellow fever July 24. SHAFER."

Madrid, July 27.—The civil governor of Madrid will not acknowledge the arrival here of Miss Jessie Schley, of Milwaukee, Wis., a cousin of Commodore Schley. She will not be received by the queen regent in connection with her peace mission, which, it is pointed out, can only be conducted through the proper diplomatic channels.

Michigan Lieutenant Dead.

Washington, July 27.—The following dispatch was received at the war department last night from Siboney, Cuba: "First Lieutenant A. J. Babcock, Thirty-third Michigan, died in the hospital of typhoid fever at 5 a. m. today. "LA GARDE, Surgeon."

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 871.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1898.

TWO CENTS

THE THREE OAKS PRESS

Particulars of Purchase by Featherbone People.

Much Dissatisfaction Expressed in the Village.

Three Oaks, July 27.—The people of this village are growing indignant as the facts in regard to the purchase of the Three Oaks Press, the village paper, by the Warren Featherbone company are becoming known.

The transfer is looked upon as more of a "freeze out" than a sale. E. F. Brown, the former publisher, has been in business here several years and was successful in building up quite a successful newspaper and job office. He was just in shape to make some money, the result of his long struggle to establish his enterprise.

The Warren Featherbone company, which by the way owns nearly the whole of the village, saw Publisher Brown's evidences of prosperity and they decided to clip his wings. Mr. Hall, the manager of the featherbone concern, got estimates on the cost of putting in a job plant and then word was indirectly sent to Publisher Brown that he was to have opposition. Mr. Brown offered to sell and told the Featherbone people that he had spent $2,500 in his newspaper and job plant. He was informed that as good a plant as his could be purchased for $1,200 and that he could take that or run against the opposition of the Warren corporation. Mr. Brown wanted a few days to decide, but his masters gave him only until 5 o'clock that day to tell what he would do. Mr. Brown sold and the featherbone people get the good will of an established business practically without cost.

There is one thing, however, in which the Warren people did not have their say and that was in the appointment of the village postmaster. A George L. Stevens, generally unknown in the political circles of the county, was brought out as a candidate by the Warren company but the people of the village succeeded in giving the office to Henry L. Hess, one of the leading republicans in the county.

BY FALSE PRETENSE

Benton Harbor Secured a Part of St. Joseph Township.

The street leading from Benton Harbor to St. Joseph is in a disgraceful condition, unfit for wagon travel, not to speak of bicycles. Hundreds of people who visit St. Joseph every season would come to Benton Harbor if there was a good drive or a respectable bicycle path. To reach Benton Harbor from St. Joseph by wheel the easiest and best way is to go over the seven mile Napier bridge course.

In this connection Gen. D. B. Ainger remarked the other day that he was in Lansing several years ago when the fight was on between Benton Harbor and St. Joseph in regard to territory. At that time St. Joseph township ran up to the end of the present paved district on West Main street and the argument of Benton Harbor, the one that captured the ears of the legislators, was that this city wanted the territory in order to build an excellent road between the two cities.

"If Benton Harbor ever spent $2.50 on the street the money was poorly applied," added Gen. Ainger.

MANY "UNKNOWN" GRAVES IN CUBA ALREADY

Owosso, July 27.—Maj. Roth, of the First battalion of the 33d Michigan, writes under date of July 12, from Siboney, as follows:

"We buried another of our regiment yesterday, Marr, of Company K, who was wounded in the fight we had. Also buried another man, 'unknown.' You would be surprised how many there are buried that are unknown. They get stripped on the operating table, die there, perhaps, and in the rush their clothes are all mixed up and their identity lost.

"Sunday I pushed all the Cuban refugees that have been collecting about the camp up into the mountains about four miles to a mining camp, about 800 of them in all; found about 3,000 already there, that had wandered across the mountains from Santiago. One cannot imagine the misery that is there. Some soldiers who had been out and taken some hard tack with them had traded it for rings worth $75 to $150, so hungry were the people.

Last night was an awful night, yet a grand one. Lightning such as you never saw in Michigan darting through the heavens in every direction at once, thunder thrown from one side of the mountain to the other and back again in one ceaseless roll, that seemed heavy enough to topple them over.

HOBSON'S EXCHANGE

Important Part Taken in it by Barratt O'Hara of this city.

Siboney correspondence to Detroit Evening News: Sergt. M. H. Prince, Privates Hiram Fruse, Ezra Collins and Anthony Peterson, all of Company B, 33d Michigan, and Barratt O'Hara, of Company I, who speaks Spanish fluently, were the boys detailed to escort the Spanish prisoners who were exchanged for Hobson and his men, from Siboney to Gen. Shafter's headquarters. They left Siboney late Tuesday afternoon, July 5, in charge of one commissioned Spanish officer and six enlisted men. They had not gone more than two miles when one of the Spaniards, an old man, became exhausted and could not walk. The boys made his companions assist him along the road. They found an old wheelbarrow, into which they placed the old prisoner, and he was conveyed some distance in this manner although the process was too slow to suit the escorts, as night was falling fast and the road was through the mountains and dense forests.

They met a proud Cuban soldier on a horse and he was invited to turn over the horse for the purpose of transferring the invalid prisoner. He very reluctantly let them take his horse, as the sight of the Spaniard on his animal made him very angry. They walked on and through O'Hara, the interpreter, the prisoners were told they must stop talking and one of them who was doing considerable unnecessary coughing was told to stop it or he would be shot. It was more effective than S. B. cough drops and cured him at once.

DISCHARGED.

Michigan Soldiers Who Had to Pay Their Way Home.

Washington, July 27.—Three Michigan boys, members of Company K, 33d Michigan regiment, have been discharged from the service on account of physical disability, and are without means to return to their homes. The discharged men are George D. Baker, of Howard City; George H. White, of Mendon and Floyd Franklin, of Marcellus.

Gen. Corbin said in speaking of these men, that they were not physically able to bear arms and should not have been mustered in. Their disabilities antedated their enrollment, and were not incurred in the service of the United States, therefore they cannot be supplied with means to reach their homes.

VIZCAYA'S FLAG.

Piece of It Has Reached Niles and Is Great Curiosity.

Niles, July 27.—Pieces of the tattered Spanish flag, which before the great naval battle off Santiago, floated proudly from the mast of the pride of the Spanish navy, the Vizcaya, have been received in this city. They are in possession of Miss Myrtle Dutton, who received them from a friend, who is a member of the Chicago naval reserve and participated in the great battle.

LOU FOELTZER'S JOB.

He Has Charge of the Burial of Dead Soldiers.

Detroit Evening News: Corp. Lewis H. Foeltzer, of Company I, 33d, Benton Harbor, and 11 men from Companies G, B and I have been made a permanent detail to look after the burial of the dead soldiers from the hospitals, relief boats and those who are sent down from the front. There are several burials each day and it is a gruesome task for the boys to be engaged in, digging graves beforehand to be in readiness in case of death. This detail of men would gladly quit their job and go to the front.

MICHIGAN ALL RIGHT

And Will Not Let Texas Steal Her Glory.

Chicago Chronicle: Michigan will resent with wrath and bitterness the assertion of Texas that Gen. Shafter should be credited to the lone star state because he has spent most of the time since the civil war along the Pecos and the Rio Grande. Michigan has just begun to come to the front and will resent any attempt to deprive her of her new-born glory. Up to the beginning of the Spanish war Michigan was respectable, but commonplace. She was noted only for lumber, peaches and Governor Pingree. But with the opening of hostilities Michigan loomed into prominence. "Boss" Alger began planning campaigns and "Bull" Shafter carried them out. Michigan, in short, has been running the war, and will resist, with force and arms if need be, any attempt on the part of Texas to steal her thunder and her heroes. The Texans may as well be warned in time and cease their depredations.

Berrien Centre Defeated.

Niles, July 27.—The new semi-professional baseball club won the second victory yesterday, defeating the Berrien Centre team by a score of 9 to 2. This second victory has waked up a great deal of baseball enthusiasm in the city and a stock company has been formed to back the team.

Young People's Picnic.

The Young People's Picnic association of Berrien county, which was organized in 1876, will hold its annual reunion at Berrien Springs, Wednesday, August 3, 1898.

Hon. E. L. Hamilton will deliver the address.

Music will be furnished by the Benton Harbor Newsboys' band and the Berrien Springs band.

The Three Oaks and the Berrien Centre ball teams will play great ball—because they can. Game called at 10 a. m. (No gate fee.)

The business meeting will be at 11 o'clock and the exercises at stand at 1:30 p. m.

Commencing at 3:30 all sorts of races and physical contests will be called, with liberal prizes.

No effort has been spared to make this the most successful meeting in the history of the society. No more delightful spot for a big picnic exists in the county than at Berrien Springs, and frequent trains on the M., B. H. & C. railroad render it easy of access. One fare for round trip.

Come with us and have a day of pleasure.

THE PHILIPPINE INSURGENT
Pancho Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, who has declared a dictatorship and martial law in the Philippines, is a very interesting character. He is the son of a prominent native chief and is about 28 years of age. He was educated by Spanish priests and was sent to Madrid to study for the priesthood, but after a year or two in the Spanish capital decided that he would rather be a soldier and was placed in one of the native regiments in the Philippines. About two years ago he organized a revolt, and fled to the savannahs on the island of Luzon, where he made his headquarters with as many as 4,000 or 5,000 men under him at times. The governor general once offered a reward of $20,000 for his head. A few days later the Spanish governor received a note from the rebel chief, saying that he wanted money and would soon deliver the head himself. One day a priest presented himself at the palace and was admitted to the presence of the governor. After locking the door the supposed priest threw off his disguise and revealed himself as Aguinaldo, armed with a knife twenty inches long and as sharp as a razor. He compelled the governor to hand over the $20,000 and made his escape. Subsequently Aguinaldo and his companions were paid $200,000 to leave the colony. When Admiral Dewey sailed for Manila, however, the insurgent leader went along with him and resumed the rebellion under American encouragement. It is evident that he is a man to be reckoned with but Dewey can be trusted to keep him within bounds.

BEFORE the war was started Spain was given opportunity to get out of Cuba. She refused. Then Dewey wiped out Montejos' fleet in Manila bay. Spain had a chance to say peace then but was mum. After the destruction of Cervera's fleet and the fall of Santiago Spain had another chance to cry enough, but she didn't. Now that Miles has landed in Porto Rico and as Spain has nothing left she cries "Enough." Spain has acted the gambler all the way through and has been betting on a bluff hand. When Uncle Sam made the last "raise" Spain didn't even have the price to "see" Uncle Samuel's hand.

GEN. Blanco is now reported to be raising crops in Havana province. He has been raising a crop that doesn't grow in the ground ever since he struck that desolate island.

SPAIN WANTS PEACE.

This is Official Fact and No Figment of Somebody's Desires or Imaginings.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR THE BEARER

Of a Proposition Direct from the Spanish Government Asking for Peace Negotiations.

NOTHING DEFINITE IS PROPOSED.

The Only Thing Developed Is That the Dons Are Prepared to Talk Peace and Have Asked France to Say So to the United States—Matter Will Be Promptly Considered and a Reply Sent That Will Probably Be Favorable to Peace Negotiations.

Washington, July 27.—The Spanish government has sued for peace, not indirectly through the great powers of Europe, but by a direct appeal to President McKinley. The proposition was formally submitted to the president at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the French ambassador, M. Jules Cambon, who had received instructions from the foreign office at Paris to deliver to the government the tender of peace formulalated by the Spanish ministry. At the conclusion of the conference between the president and the French ambassador the following official statement was issued from the White House:

"The French ambassador on behalf of the government of Spain, and by direction of the Spanish minister of foreign affairs, presented to the president this afternoon at the White House a message from the Spanish government looking to the termination of the war, and the settlement of terms of peace."

Former Peace Rumors Baseless.

This was the only official statement made public, but it sufficed to put at rest all conjecture and to make clear and definite that at last Spain had taken the initiative toward peace. Although peace rumors have been current almost daily heretofore since the war began not one of them had the shadow of foundation, and until the French ambassador received instructions from Paris late Monday night no overtures of any kind had been received. Shortly before midnight Monday a dispatch to the French embassy made it known to the embassy that the ambassador would be charged with the important mission of opening peace negotiations in behalf of Spain. The complete instructions, including an official letter from Duke Almodovar Rio, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, were received yesterday morning. Arrangements were immediately made for an interview between Cambon and the president and it took place at 3 p. m.

Proposition Is a General One.

The call lasted about half an hour, and after the first formalities had been executed by M. Cambon the talk became general and quite formal, the president, ambassador and the secretary of state discussing the outlook for a conclusion of hostilities. The proposition submitted by the ambassador acting for the Spanish government was quite general in terms, and was confined to the one essential point of an earnest plea that negotiations be opened for the purpose of terminating the war and arriving at terms of peace. The communication of the Spanish government did not suggest any specific terms of peace, nor was any reference made to Cuba, the Philippines, Porto Rico or other Spanish possessions. The evident purpose of the Madrid authorities was to first learn whether the United States would treat on the subject of peace, and after that to take up such terms as the two parties might suggest.

NO PROPOSITION FOR ARMISTICE.

Matter Will Be Presented to and Discussed by the Cabinet.

Neither was there any suggestion from the Spanish government that an armistice be established pending the peace negotiations. In the conversation which followed the reading of the proposition neither the president nor the ambassador entered upon the question of the terms of peace. It was finally determined that the president would consult the members of his cabinet concerning the proposition, and after a decision had been arrived at M. Cambon would then be invited to the White House for a further conference and for a final answer from the United States government. When the president will submit the Spanish proposition to the cabinet has not yet been announced. The call of the ambassador was two hours after the cabinet meeting of yesterday had closed and there will not be another regular cabinet meeting until Friday. A special cabinet meeting will probably be held in order to make prompt reply to the proposition.

Naturally the plea of Spain to open peace negotiations opens up a wide field of conjecture as to what the terms of peace will be. Thus far there is no official warrant for saying what terms Spain will propose, or what terms the United States will offer or accept. So far as this country is concerned it is the general impression that the complete Spanish evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico will be insisted upon as a sine qua non. There is not the same certainty as to the Philippines, Ladrones and Carolines, although the belief is growing that the terms of the United States will include coaling stations in those groups. On the part of Spain it is believed that she now has reached such a realization of her misfortune that she will readily consent to terms for the evacuation of Cuba and probably Porto Rico.

The Spanish desire is apparently very strong for the retention of the Philippines, although there is little doubt that coaling stations there and at other points will be conceded. The matter of war indemnity is for future consideration, although there does not appear to be a disposition among the officials here to pile up a heavy war indemnity against Spain in her present helpless condition.

A conference of Secretaries Alger, Bliss, Wilson and Postmaster General Smith with President McKinley lasted until nearly midnight. At its conclusion Secretary Alger said that no special cabinet meeting had been called for tomorrow and he saw no prospect of one. From what was said by members of the cabinet who have consulted with the president it seems practically determined to accept the offer to open negotiations. It was stated that in effecting a settlement some beginning had to be made. The offer made yesterday was such a beginning. Nothing could be known about the terms upon which the negotiations will be conducted or proposals to be made until there had been a further conference by those having the matter in charge. Secretary Alger stated when he left the White House that there would be no change in the plans of the campaign and the war would go forward with vigor.

MORGAN'S TERMS OF PEACE.

Would Leave Nothing Undone That Would Humiliate the Spaniards.

Washington, July 27.—Senator Morgan regards the peace proposals as a sign of submission by Spain. "The power of Spain is broken," said he, "and it is plain that there is nothing to stop us now short of the Spanish border." Concerning the terms of peace Morgan has clearly defined ideas. "My first proposition," he said, "would be the complete surrender by Spain of all territory over which the flag floats. This would include Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, the Carolines and the Ladrones. I would make this surrender the subject of a separate and exclusive treaty. I would demand of Spain a surrender unconditional in every particular, and without any reference to what we may wish to do with the territory hereafter. I would not allow any 'ifs' nor 'ands' about it."

"This treaty should be in such terms that the United States can be free to act without any conditions, and it should be the first proposition on which to base peace. I would also demand as one of the first conditions of peace the opening of jail doors to all prisoners confined for political offenses. I would extend this proposition so as to include all political prisoners from Cuba, Porto Rico, or the Philippines. It should free all who have been imprisoned because of participation in the insurrection."

"After this treaty covering the surrender of dominions and release of political prisoners has been concluded," he continued, "I would take up the matter of war indemnity. This covers several topics, some of which I do not care to discuss at this time. Individually I should want to consider the matter of a coaling station in the Canary Islands, off the coast of Africa. Further I would require guarantees from Spain that she will assume all responsibility for any debts that might prove a lien upon Cuba—or upon Porto Rico and the Philippines, for that matter."

POOR SHOTS AT THE DONS.

Or There Should Have Been Five Good and Dead Thugs Here.

St. Louis, July 27.—A special to The Republican from Muscogee, I. T., says: Five men attempted to rob the bank at Checotah, I. T., yesterday, but one of the gang had notified the United States officials of the intention of the robbers, and they were met just outside the city limits by about fifteen citizens of Checotah well armed.

A pitched battle took place, in which two of the robbers were wounded. Three were captured and will be brought to Muscogee to await trial. The other two, Miller and Crossy, the leaders of the gang, succeeded in making their escape, but a posse of deputy marshals is in pursuit.

Fleet Reports Made Public.

Washington, July 27.—The navy department yesterday made public the reports of Admiral Sampson, Commodore Schley, Captain Clark, of the Oregon, and Captain Evans, of the Iowa, on the battle of July 3, which resulted in the destruction of Cervera's squadron. They are very long and give the details of the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

Her Babe Devoured by Animals.

Spring Valley, Wis., July 27.—While a party of berry pickers were scouring the woods between Plum City and Pepin one of the number, a mother, nursed her babe and placed it in a buggy to sleep. When she returned from the berry patch an hour or so afterwards she was horrified to find that her little one had been devoured by animals.

Santiago de Cuba, July 27.—Dr. Gutierrez, the yellow fever expert, who has resigned from the Red Cross and started for the United States, took the step because there were unfavorable comments on his work among members of the society.

FORESTALLED HIM.

The Chipper Youth Knew What Usually Happened In Such Cases.

The fresh young man with no respect in his soul for gray hairs and dyed whiskers swung himself on the car in the middle of a block, and leaning against the brake handle proceeded to roll a cigarette with great deftness. The fat man who despises the ways of the youth on general principles leaned against the window guards and watched the development of a cigarette.

"Got a match, neighbor?" inquired the fresh young man as he put the last finishing twist to his smoke.

"Young man"—began the fat man after a brief, elderly pause, calculated to greatly impress the cigarette smoker.

"Yes, I know all about"—interrupted the youth, "so you might as well choke your lecture on a bourn. I know cigarettes will kill me if I stick to 'em, but I don't care. It's an easy death. I know if I must smoke I should smoke cigars, but I don't like the color of 'em. I've got a touch of paresis now, and I'm due for more. I know you think of all the disgusting things in the world a cigarette is the worst."

"I know they undermine the constitution and are wrecking the rising generation. Now if I've forgotten anything you were going to say help me out. Come to think of it, I've got a match myself. If I keep on smoking these things, I won't be able to think at all before long. I know if you had a boy that smoked cigarettes you would lick him within an inch of his life. I nearly forgot you were going to say that. Where do you get off anyhow?"

"Here," gasped the fat man as he dropped off the platform, muttering something about what this country is coming to. And the fresh young man lighted his cigarette with a grin.—Washington Times.

Spelled the Rescue.
Major Tom Williams some time ago told me the story of one of Colonel Gib Wright's adventures in South Carolina in the closing months of the war. It seems that General Kilpatrick, the Federal cavalry commander, had captured a number of Confederates, and Wright was anxious to rescue them. He called for volunteers to go with him into the enemy's camp at night and picked out the men he needed from those who responded. The Federal troopers were snoozing quietly in their camp and on both sides of the road leading to it, and their prisoners dozed by a fire near the center. Just how they got there would be hard to explain, but shortly after midnight Gib Wright, at the head of a few men, rode at a gentle pace into the camp. The drowsy Federals took them for a party of their own men returning from a scout, and paid no attention to them. Everything was working smoothly until one of the prisoners caught a glimpse of the newcomers. The fellow lost his head and ruined the whole business. He leaped to his feet and looked into the faces of the advancing Confederates. "Horrar, boys!" he shouted in his delirious delight. "Hang me, if there ain't old Gib Wright and his crowd. Durned if the whole Confederate army ain't right behind him!" The prisoners all rushed forward with the regular rebel yell, and the sleeping Federals suddenly became very wide awake. From every side they showered bullets on their visitors, and Wright and his men had almost a miraculous deliverance. Several were killed and wounded, but the leader and the majority of the party managed to get away.—Atlanta Constitution.

Getting Up.
The Duke of Wellington slept on an iron camp bedstead 18 inches wide and argued that "when a man wants to turn over it is time to turn out." Edward Everett Hale quotes this remark of the duke in the "Ten Times One Record" and takes issue with him. "The principle is well enough," says Dr. Hale, "but I think the detail is wrong. Sleep is far too important to be made uncomfortable." Dr. Hale goes on to tell of various ingenious devices for automating waking a sleeper. A friend of his fixed his alarm so that at the foreordained moment the bedclothes were dragged from the bed. The same gentleman found another contrivance which worked better. "The alarm struck a match, which lighted the lamp which boiled the water for Rossiter's shaving. If Rossiter staid in bed too long, the water boiled over upon his razor and clean shirt and the prayer book his mother gave him and Coleridge's autograph and his open pocketbook and all the other precious things he could put in a basin underneath when he went to bed; so he had to get up before that moment came."

A Generous Admission.
The London Graphic tells the following story about Hans Richter in an article on conductors:
Dr. Richter's popularity with his men is easily intelligible, for while nothing escapes his argus-eyed vigilance he always recognizes and acknowledges good work. A few years ago, while he was conducting—from memory, as usual—one of Brahms's overtures at St. James's hall, "a strange thing happened," as Mr. Haggard used to say. Band and conductor lost touch for several bars, and when the piece was ended Dr. Richter signaled to the orchestra to play the overture again from the beginning. This time everything went without a hitch, and at the close Dr. Richter turned round, and addressing the audience said, "Ladies and gentlemen, the mistake was mine, not the orchestra's," a generous admission which provoked a salvo of applause.

Carlyle's Bumptiousness.
Joachim, the great violinist, was introduced to Carlyle by a mutual friend. The sage was about to take his morning walk, and he asked Joachim to accompany him. During a very long walk in Hyde park Carlyle kept the conversation running on Germany and its great men—the Fredericks, Moltke and Bismarck—until at last Joachim thought it was his turn to take a lead, and he started with the inquiry, "Do you know Sterndale Bennett?"
"No," was the reply, and, after a pause, "I don't care generally for musicians; they are an empty, wind baggy sort of people."

Playing Gooseberry.
Playing gooseberry or "to play gooseberry" is common enough in connection with sweethearting. A lass arranges a walk with a lad, but for some reason she does not care to go alone, so she takes a friend, another girl, and the friend "plays gooseberry." Sometimes the girl who is invited to share the walk refuses, saying, "Nay, I'm not going to play gooseberry." The girls speak of the lad in this connection as "gooseberry fool." By the way, green gooseberries stewed with a little water, mashed, and sugar added, constitute "gooseberry fool."—Notes and Queries.

Just In Time.
A butcher's lad went to deliver some meat at a certain house in Newcastle where a fierce dog is kept. The lad entered the back yard, and as soon as the dog saw him he pinned him against the wall. In a short time the mistress of the house ran out and drove the animal away. "Has he bitten you?" she asked.
"No," said the lad, "aa kept him off by giving him your suet, aa ye just cam' in time to save the beef."—London Fun.

"In Hoc" Defined.
Mr. de Amor (exhibiting his Knight Templar charm)—I'm h-o-c. Can you tell me, Ethel, what that means?
Ethel (his love's little sister)—Yeth, thair, ith where your watch ith.—Jewellers Weekly.

A Daring Horseman.
"The day before General Lee surrendered," said a Confederate officer, "I crossed Sailor's creek, a small stream in Prince Edward county, Va., which follows the track of the Richmond and Danville railroad and empties into the Appomattox river. There was only a handful of my company left, and as I reached the summit of the hill which skirts its eastern bank I turned to see if the Federals—who had been hotly pursuing us—were in view. As I did so I observed a man wearing the uniform of a Confederate officer ride slowly along the precipitous side of the stream opposite us, and evidently searching for a crossing. "At this moment a long steel tipped blue line of Federal infantry crowned the hill above, in full view and within easy range of the horseman. Apparently abandoning all hope of escape, the latter turned and rode directly toward the enemy's line. As we watched him, breathless with anxiety lest the signal of surrender should be too long delayed, he suddenly wheeled about, put spurs to his horse, and dashing down the declivity cleared the stream with a bound. Not a shot was fired at the bold rider. As he reached the opposite bank a spontaneous shout went up from the whole line—a generous tribute from the brave to the brave. A moment afterward the Confederate was in the midst of us and we recognized in him General James A. Walker, the commander of the old Stonewall brigade." — Philadelphia Times.

Too Tired to Work.
Malaguanians do not want to be bothered or improved. They want to be let alone. They neither welcome you when you come nor speed you when you go. They are indifferent which you do. You may pay your bill to the day if you like or leave it if you had rather wait. Nobody will touch a coin or a valuable if you leave it on your table, but if you lose a pencil or an eyeglass no one will ever find it. It is too much trouble. Never hope to have letters forwarded, for you will see them no more, and few registered parcels escape the post office. A year ago—for we wintered there twice—I wanted to send a telegram and went to the principal office. Malaga is fourth or fifth in importance among Spanish towns. The office was only open twice a day for an hour or two at a time. Not a clerk could speak anything but Spanish, so I had to go back to the hotel for the interpreter to translate my message. When I returned with it, I wanted a note for 25 pesetas (francs) changed. All the clerks at all the pigeonholes were very kind and civil and smoked cigarettes while they looked for change. But the whole office could not muster it, so I was left to pay next time. It is as a life apart altogether.—Spectator.

Had to Hustle For a Captain.
Judge George E. Mann tells the following story about the Second company of the Richmond Howitzer battalion. "All the boys who wanted to be officers had been taken care of and the others preferred to be privates. Our first captain was George W. Randolph, who was afterward secretary of war of the Confederate states. He was succeeded by John Thompson Brown, who was afterward made a colonel of artillery. Then we tried to elect a captain, but none of the boys would have it. They went out to fight and were content to be privates. The duties of captain were onerous, and none of them cared to accept. We had to get a captain from another company."—Galveston News.

The Highly Gifted Cow.
It is said that something bordering on the miraculous has lately happened at Tickton, a village in Yorkshire. A farmer bought what he thought was a drinking trough for his cattle, which did very well for all his stock but one, and this was a cow that never would drink from it. This causing some inconvenience, the farmer mentioned it, until the fact came to the ears of a local antiquary, who on examination pronounced the supposed trough to be a font, and further research showed that it had once stood in the village church. It has now been recovered and replaced.—English Country Newspaper.

First Run on a Bank.
The first "run" on banking institutions in London was in 1667. Many Lombard street goldsmiths and bankers had lent out the money intrusted to them, and being called upon for payment were unable to meet the demand. A crowd of creditors and others assembled and a riot followed, in which four bankers were hanged at their own doors before order could be restored and the angry creditors persuaded that they were not being swindled.

Attaining Refinement.
Charles Dudley Warner was once talking informally to the students of the Art league in New York on "Refinement."
"And how may one best attain to this ideal of refinement?" asked one young man.
Mr. Warner stroked his whiskers very earnestly for a space, but this was the utmost he could find of encouragement, "A very good way is to inherit it."

Clever.
Mrs. Petter—Did you see that? Dixon seized that rocking chair and was into it before his wife had a chance to reach it. And on his wedding trip too.
Mr. Petter—That's just it. There's where Dixon is smart. Nobody will suspect that he is on his wedding tour, don't you see? And besides, he gets the chair.—Boston Transcript.

Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards, they simply unveil them to the eyes of men. Silently and imperceptibly, as we wake or sleep, we grow and wax strong, we grow and wax weak, and at last some crisis shows us what we have become.—Canon Westcott.

Pathetic Hopes.
What could be more pathetic, asks the Spokane Spokesman-Review, than the spectacle daily presented in this city, when the overland trains move through with their burdens of eager, joyous and deluded humanity making for the hardships and the perils of the Klondike? These happy gold seekers are passing through Spokane at the rate of from 300 to 500 daily. For the most part, they are young men, often mere boys from the farm, the counter and the factory. Many of them never beheld a mountain until they entered upon their present journey. Few of them have borne burdens upon their backs, or waded icy streams, or navigated tempestuous lakes. At the undertaking they are facing they are worse than tyros. They are mere children. Not one in a hundred knows what he is going against. The pathos will come in the undecaying—when hope has burned low and the ugly truth is before them; when many of them shall break down on the terrible trails and some of them shall die far from their home and kindred.

Nearly Every Business Man Is Against It.

The Saloon Men Even Make a Protest.

Nearly every business man in the city has signed the protest against the removal of the postoffice to the corner of Water street and North Water street. Following is the petition and the signatures:

We, the undersigned, citizens and business men of the city of Benton Harbor respectfully protest against the removal of the postoffice from its present quarters for the following reasons: It is now centrally and well located; the proposed new quarters is one of the most undesirable and inconvenient places for the general public in the city; to reach it from any point you are required to pass from one to three saloons; the proposed location is near the docks where the hotels and dock whollipers congregate; for six months in the year the street is so crowded with teams that it is both inconvenient and dangerous to reach it. Evidently this matter has been misrepresented to the department and before this crime is perpetrated we demand a full investigation in a matter whereby fully ninety per cent of the patrons of the office will be inconvenienced by the move.

In addition to the above every saloon keeper in the city has signed the following petition:

We, the undersigned saloon keepers of the city of Benton Harbor, Berrien county, Michigan, do respectfully remonstrate against the proposed location and now site of the postoffice on Water street in the said city of Benton Harbor, for the following reasons:

First: It is by the law of the state of Michigan provided, that the city council of any city may prescribe the locality where saloons may exist; and confine the traffic of liquor in any place or quarter of the city.

Second: By common consent, permission and long established use and occupancy the immediate blocks on Water street and Territorial street leading to the proposed site for the new postoffice are the streets in Benton Harbor where saloons are located and where your petitioners have vested and substantial rights and immunities that have grown up about their business.

Third: There are sixteen saloons in the city of Benton Harbor, fourteen of which are located within one block, and on the streets leading to the new proposed postoffice site.

Fourth: Should the postoffice be located at the place proposed it would compel our citizens, including women and children, who might have business with the postoffice to pass a number of saloons no matter how they approached the building.

Fifth: This portion of the city is used for at least four months in each year by the farmers who drive in to deliver their produce on the boats. Frequently for hours in the day, by reason thereof, it is almost impossible to get through the throng of teams and men there congregated.

Sixth: Your petitioners do respectfully show, that the proposed site for the new postoffice is at one side of the city, and is neither central nor convenient for the general public and is not a locality where the postoffice should be placed.

It will be noticed that the leading firms on Water street, Morrow & Stone and Kidd, Dater & Price have joined in the protest against the removal of the postoffice to that street.

The farmers are as unanimously against the change as are the business men.

UNION DEPOT

It Will Be a Credit to the City.

70x175 Feet and Pretty Structure.

Best Depot on the West Michigan Road.

The plans for the new union depot call for a structure 70x175 feet—a building that will be an honor to the city and of which citizens may justly be proud.

General Manager Heald says it will be equally as good if not better than any depot along the entire line of the West Michigan road. Benton Harbor furnishes the road more business than any other town outside of Grand Rapids and the company proposes to show its appreciation with a suitable station.

The local paper which said the depot would be a little insignificant affair 30x70, about the size of the present shanties, was misinformed.
